COLLINS NURSERY

The Collins Nursery of the Ambler Arboretum produces over 200 species of native plants!

Nursery Open Days are scheduled from May through October, providing our community with a wide selection of native plants to purchase. From projects in the home garden to large scale restoration plantings, Collins Nursery has plants to match the job.

To receive notifications about upcoming sales and events, please sign up for our e-mail list.

Garden Etiquette

Please walk in the grass and on the paths, not in the garden beds.

Please admire the trees from the ground; do not climb them.

Please leave the flowers and leaves for others to experience; do not cut or pick them.

Please use the trash and recycling containers as needed.

Please walk your dogs here, keep them on a leash at all times, clean up after them, and make sure to keep them out of the garden beds.

Smoking is prohibited on all Temple University campuses.

Accessibility

Portions of the gardens are accessible to all (see map key). Some areas are not accessible to visitors with limited mobility, as they are natural environments with areas of uneven terrain.
