WELCOME TO TEMPLE UNIVERSITY AMBLER!

Getting Around the Temple University Ambler campus.

1 Parking: Lifelong Learning Society members who require handicapped parking will be permitted to park in Parking Lot #2. After that, parking in the Learning Center Parking Lot (Lot #2) will be on a first-come, first-served basis. Parking will also be available in Parking Area #3 (Student Parking Lot) and shuttle service will be provided to and from the parking lot and Learning Center throughout the day.

2 Learning Center: Most of the Lifelong Learning Society classes will take place in the Learning Center. A cafe provides convenient food choices and beverage options.

2 Learning Center Auditorium: The Lectures that Matter series will take place in our state-of-the art, 300-seat auditorium.

3 Bright Hall: Relax and eat your lunch in Bright Hall Lounge.

4 Ambler Arboretum: The Ambler Arboretum of Temple University has a diverse range of learning gardens, from formal perennial gardens to a green roof garden, which provide a rich diversity of garden experiences. Take a self-guided tour of the arboretum in any season!
Jazz Masters
Each week the class will focus on a different jazz musician, ensemble or genre and will examine the music with copious audio and video examples. Presented by Chandler Cook, who plays woodwinds in big bands and John Banger a lifelong music lover, who became interested in jazz as a teen-ager.
6 Wednesdays • October 10 to November 14 • 9:30 – 10:50 AM

A Forum on National and International Events
We will explore and discuss the views and positions expressed in electronic media, the internet, straight news and opinions, focusing on NPR, Fox News, MSNBC and CNN. We will review articles from print media, including The Wall Street Journal, New York Times, Philadelphia Inquirer and USA Today. We will delve into and encourage discussion from all points of view. October 31st is open moderator day – step up and lead the class! Moderator Dan Shoulberg, a retired executive, is the coordinator of the Lifelong Learning Society and has led discussion groups for the program since 2002.
6 Wednesdays • October 10 to November 14 • 9:30 – 10:50 AM

Evolution: The Universe, Life and What it Means to be Human
We will explore the origin and evolution of the universe, the elements, solar system, earth, life, intelligence, humans and human societies. Recent discoveries in the physical and life sciences and advances in technology challenge our understanding of what causes evolution, where we came from and what it means to be human. We will follow the development of life on earth from the perspectives of science, philosophy, religion and the arts. Presented by Sandy Catz, MEng, Lifelong Learning member leads discussions for Greater Philadelphia Thinking Society and Socrates Café.
6 Wednesdays • October 10 to November 14 • 9:30 – 10:50 AM
Play Reading 101

Be an actor with no memorization and no stage fright – and have a lot of fun. Participants will have the opportunity to read a part in two plays during the course. The roles will rotate to give everyone who wishes a chance to read. We will examine plays from the standpoint of a director – themes, strengths, weaknesses, sets, costumes, character, etc. The plays will be Bus Stop by William Inge and comedy, Don’t Drink the Water by Woody Allen. Students will be responsible for purchasing scripts, for approximately $10.00 per script. Presented by Arnie and Lorri Finkel, who has been conducting and directing musical productions for the past 55 years.

6 Wednesdays • October 10 to November 14 • 11:10 - 12:30 PM

Seminar on Thus Spoke Zarathustra by Friedrich Nietzsche

Nietzsche’s most important work was to be conceived as a new Bible, a fifth Gospel, to challenge all existing religions, as well as a sacred text to replace the “now dead Christianity.” The style and speech are biblical; the prophesy focuses on “life now, not on an after-life” Zarathustra’s mission is to “overcome the great disgust at the petty ugliness of current humanity.” Limited to 20 participants. Presented by Michael Heinsdorf, MDiv, STM, MA, a former Lutheran pastor, high school German instructor and adjunct faculty member at LaSalle University.

6 Wednesdays • October 10 to November 14 • 11:10 - 12:30 PM

Defending America: The U.S. National Security Strategy

The four pillars of the current Administration’s security and defense strategy are: protect the homeland, promote America’s prosperity, preserve peace through strength, and advance America’s influence in the world. We will examine these themes and compare them with the strategies of the former occupants of the White House. Do they make sense to you? Do you agree with these goals? Join our discussion of our national security strategies as we consider what should be our nation’s security goals. Presented by Ira Cooperman, a former intelligence officer who has worked with the CIA, NSA and the military.

6 Wednesdays • October 10 to November 14 • 11:10 - 12:30 PM
Course Offerings

Tablets and Smartphones
Learn to use your smart device effectively including the basics of general usage, email (including how to send and receive documents and pictures), photography, applications and GPS. You do not need to own a device to learn from this course. This course applies to both Apple and Android devices. Presented by Vic Bittman, who is a retired IT department project manager of Chase Manhattan Bank and AIG.
6 Wednesdays • October 10 to November 14 • 2:50 - 4:10 PM

History and Rock and Roll: The Music That Changed the World
The history of the United States has always been intertwined with music. We will trace the roots of R&R and explore the impact that this youth oriented music had on society and our cultural history. We will delve into the personalities that made this music timeless. Rock and Roll’s history is the story of controversy, tragedy, self-indulgence, but it is also the story of love, peace, and the triumph of the human spirit. Presented by James H. Robertson, who holds an MA in Modern European History from Washington State University and is an Adjunct Professor of History at Eastern University.
6 Wednesdays • October 10 to November 14 • 2:50 - 4:10 PM

Drawing: Explore Your Inner Artist
Yes, anyone can learn to draw! Come and enjoy drawing with fellow classmates in a friendly supportive environment. Draw from still life, photos and a model. Instructor will supply individual guidance. Open to all levels and anyone interested in drawing. We will be using pencil and charcoal. Please bring drawing paper and drawing pencils to the first class. Presented by Jackie Drewes who has worked as an art recruiter for a small school and has pursued a forty year study of painting and drawing.
6 Wednesdays • October 10 to November 14 • 2:50 - 4:10 PM

Remembering Fabian Ulitsky

The Lifelong Learning Society remembers instructor, Fabian Ulitsky, who passed away on June 20, 2018. Fabian taught several courses for the Lifelong Learning Society. He brought his wealth of knowledge and experiences to his classes and provided for some very interesting class discussions. He will certainly be missed!

We appreciate the Lifelong Learning members who have suggested lecturers and courses.

Also, many thanks to the volunteer instructors, who contribute their time, energy and expertise to the program.
