Getting Around the Temple University Ambler campus.

1. Parking: Lifelong Learning Society members who require handicapped or easy-access parking are permitted to park in the Learning Center Parking Lot (Lot #2). Handicapped parking must be reserved in advance. Regular parking will be available in Lot #3, and a shuttle service will be provided to and from Lot #3 and the Learning Center Building throughout the day.

2. Learning Center: Most of the Lifelong Learning Society classes will take place in the Learning Center. A cafe provides convenient food choices and beverage options.

3. Learning Center Auditorium: The Lectures that Matter series will take place in our state-of-the-art, 300-seat auditorium.

4. Bright Hall: Relax and eat your lunch in Bright Hall Lounge.

5. Ambler Arboretum: The Ambler Arboretum of Temple University has a diverse range of learning gardens, from formal perennial gardens to a green roof garden, which provide a rich diversity of garden experiences. Take a self-guided tour of the arboretum in any season!
Agriculture, Imperialism, Slavery, and the Anthropocene Era
This course will cover the evolution of human behavior and the progression of his dominance since the Agricultural Revolution over not only animals, but also other men, and the development of slavery, racism, colonization, and imperialism. We will also explore the relationship of these elements to expressions of art, music, and literature throughout history. Presented by Steven Pollack, performer, director, lecturer, actor, and teacher.

6 Mondays • March 9 to April 13 • 9:00 AM – 10:20 AM

Cheapskate Tech
We all like getting good value for our money. Learn how to make informed choices, spend less, and how to satisfy ALL your technology “needs” on a budget. Presented by Glen Maxson, who worked in the information technology sector with Boeing and Intel since graduating from Penn State in 1977.

6 Mondays • March 9 to April 13 • 9:30 AM – 10:50 AM
A Survey on the Islamic Tradition
Take a detailed look at the Islamic intellectual tradition as it developed over the last fourteen centuries, from the time of the Quran’s revelation to now. Explore the major branches of Islamic knowledge, the role of scripture, and the centrality of the exemplary life of the Prophet Muhammad. The course will strive to contextualize and operationalize the different branches of knowledge by providing a survey of the foundations, principles, objectives, history, and key figures of each branch of knowledge. Presented by Numan Ali Dugmeoglu, who is the Youth and Outreach Director at the Muslim Society of Delaware Valley. A third-generation Turkish American, Numan earned his bachelor’s degree in political science from Drexel University. Also, assisted by Maria and Mohamed Morsi, members of the Lifelong Learning Society.

6 Mondays • March 9 to April 13 • 1:00 PM - 2:20 PM

Creating and Preserving Landmarks and Culture
Join us for “multi-sensory delight,” connecting the present with the past. From historic monuments and buildings to culinary treasures and delights, see how society and culture have evolved through construction and traditions. Presented by Alicia Romeu, who has several master’s degrees and is a retired Spanish teacher and a member of the Lifelong Learning Society.

5 Mondays • March 9 to April 6
1:00 PM - 2:35 PM

Please note dates and times for this course. There is no class session on April 13.

Course Offerings

WEDNESDAY SESSIONS

A Forum on National and International Events
Explore and discuss the views and positions expressed in electronic media, the internet, straight news and opinions, and the rise of fake news, focusing on NPR, Fox News, MSNBC, and CNN. Review articles from print media, including the Wall Street Journal, New York Times, Philadelphia Inquirer, and USA Today. Delve into and encourage discussion from all points of view. April 1 is open moderator day—step up and lead the class! Moderator Dan Shoulberg, a retired executive, is the coordinator of the Lifelong Learning Society and has led discussion groups for the program since 2002.

6 Wednesdays • March 11 to April 15 • 9:30 AM - 10:50 AM

Aging in Place Safely
Learn about balance and fall prevention and navigating the aging process for yourself or a loved one. Learn techniques to assess and improve balance. We will discuss and learn about home safety and simple home modification, breathing exercises and relaxation, energy conservation, safe seating at your desk, posture, and lifting techniques. This will be an interactive class with experiential learning and something helpful for everybody. Presented by Patrice Erik, PT, MEd, a retired physical therapist with 45 years of experience.

6 Wednesdays • March 11 to April 15 • 9:30 AM - 10:50 AM

Communications Technologies: From Talking Drums to Cell Phones and the Internet
Communication enables culture and the spread of ideas. Explore the science, development, and social impacts of communications technologies. How did the invention of writing shape civilization? How did the printing press change “everything?” Have telephones, broadcasting and digital communications made the world smaller? How do computers communicate and what are some of the benefits and risks of the Internet? Explore the answers to these questions and more in this course. Presented by Sandy Catz, MEng, Lifelong Learning Society member who also leads discussions for the Greater Philadelphia Thinking Society and Socrates Café.

6 Wednesdays • March 11 to April 15 • 9:30 AM - 10:50 AM
Course Offerings

Play Reading 102
Be an actor with no memorization and no stage fright—and have a lot of fun. Participants will have the opportunity to read a part in three plays during the course. The roles will rotate to give everyone who wishes a chance to read. We will examine plays from the standpoint of a director—theme, strengths, weaknesses, sets, costumes, character, etc. The plays will be The Nerd, by Larry Shue, Old Lace, by Joseph Kesselring, and Sweat, by Lynne Nottage. Students will be responsible for purchasing scripts at the time of registration for approximately $10.00 per script. Presented by Arnie and Lorri Finkel, who have been conducting and directing musical productions for the past 55 years.

6 Wednesdays • March 11 to April 15 • 11:10 AM - 12:30 PM

The Rise and Fall of Fascism and Hitler
Despite the fact that over 14,000 respectable resources have been written since 1945 about Hitler and Nazi ideology, scholars are still re-evaluating one of the world’s most destructive episodes. The seminar will analyze Nazi ideology, discuss the Hitler myth, and focus on the eternal forms of evil. Class is limited to 40 participants. Presented by Michael Heinsdorf, MDiv, STM, MA, a former Lutheran pastor, high school German instructor, and adjunct faculty member at LaSalle University.

6 Wednesdays • March 11 to April 15 • 11:10 AM - 12:30 PM

Abnormal Psychology Goes to the Movies
Explore abnormal psychology as seen in examples from the popular media. An updated selection of movie clips will be used to illustrate each disorder and to stimulate discussion. Note: the class will not involve the viewing of complete movies. Presented by Mary Raskin, BSN, a certified mental health and psychiatric nurse.

6 Wednesdays • March 11 to April 15 • 11:10 AM - 12:30 PM

12 Great Presidents
In 1789, the founding fathers crafted a Constitution and the position of president. With the assistance of Great Courses, we will discuss twelve great presidents and explore how the power of this office has adapted with time. We will attempt to define greatness and why the chosen presidents should be considered great. Discover how difficult this office is and how these twelve men responded to the challenges and how they changed U.S. History and the office of president. Presented by James H. Robertson, who holds an MA in modern European history from Washington State University and is an adjunct professor of history at Eastern University.

6 Wednesdays • March 11 to April 15 • 2:40 PM - 4:00 PM
Explore Your Inner Artist
Come and enjoy drawing with fellow classmates in a friendly, supportive environment. Draw from still life, photos, and a model. The instructor will supply individual guidance. Open to all levels and anyone interested in drawing. We will be using pencil and charcoal. Please bring drawing paper and drawing pencils to the first class. Presented by Jackie Drewes who has worked as an art recruiter for a small school and has pursued a forty-year study of painting and drawing.
6 Wednesdays • March 11 to April 15 • 2:40 PM - 4:00 PM

Brazil and Her Music
Join us for an introduction to Brazil and its culture, mostly through musica popular brasileira (MPB). Classes will consist of personal anecdotes and thematic presentations of MPB. We will explore the work of the major composers, the interpreters of the music, and lyrical themes, which will touch on life, love, and social-political commentary and protest. Presented by Narayan Acharya, PhD, an engineer who is also a writer and storyteller by avocation and who developed a passion for the music of Spain and Brazil.
6 Wednesdays • March 11 to April 15 • 2:40 PM - 4:00 PM

First Friday Book Club
The book for April is Irena’s Children: The Extraordinary Story of the Woman Who Saved 2,500 Children from the Warsaw Ghetto. Participants should read the book prior to the first-class session. Books can be purchased through local bookstores and online vendors. Class will meet on the first Friday of the month. Presented by Michael Heinsdorf, MDiv, STM, MA, a former Lutheran pastor, high school German instructor and adjunct faculty member at LaSalle University.
Fridays • April 3, May 1, June 5, July 10, Aug. 7 • 11:00 AM - 12:20 PM
This lecture series features a different presenter each week sharing their area of expertise.

6 Wednesdays • March 11 to April 15
1:20 - 2:20 PM

“Music of the 1950’s”
Presented by David Heitler-Klevans and Two of a Kind.

“The Cemetery Traveler”
Presented by Ed Snyder, author of The Cemetery Traveler blog, a photographer and writer who specializes in graveyards and everything related to them. He is a member of the Board of Directors of Philadelphia’s Friends of Mount Moriah Cemetery, Inc.

“Cold War—70+ Years of Peace-Effects on the Marshall Plan and NATO”
Presented by James Robertson, who holds an MA in modern European history, is an adjunct professor of history at Eastern University, and is an instructor for the Lifelong Learning Society.

“The Legacy of the Ladies: How the Women in the PA School of Horticulture of Women Went on to Change the World of Horticulture”
Presented by Kathleen Salisbury, MS, director of the Ambler Arboretum of Temple University.

“Out of Mt. Rushmore’s Shadow”
Presented by Lou Del Bianco, a nationally recognized children’s storyteller who discusses his grandfather, Luigi Del Bianco, and his unsung contribution as a chief carver on our nation’s greatest memorial, Mount Rushmore.

“South Philadelphia High: School of the Musical Stars”
Presented by Tom DiRenzo, a graduate of South Philadelphia High and Temple University, who has an avocation for music and will discuss great performers who attended South Philadelphia H.S. such as Al Alberts, Marian Anderson, and Chubby Checker.

MONDAY SESSIONS

The Golden Age of Illustration
Norman Rockwell, N. C. Wyeth, J.C Leyendecker and Maxfield Parrish are some of the best known American illustrators of the 20th Century. The genius and art of these giants are perhaps the pinnacle of a tradition of illustration techniques that began centuries ago. We will explore the history of illustration, the differences between art and illustration, and the legacy of these great artists in the later 20th and 21st centuries. Presented by Steven Pollack, performer, director, lecturer, actor, and teacher.

4 Mondays • June 1 to 22 • 9:00 AM - 10:20 AM

Integrated History
What was on Pope Julius II’s mind as he left the Sistine Chapel after checking on Michelangelo’s work? What did Will Shakespeare and his friends talk about when they went out for a pint? The world before our time was every bit as complex and multifaceted as ours. This course will look at European (mostly) history across the spectra of art, music, science, technology, war, and politics from the middle ages until the Victorian era. Presented by John Shepherd, an avocational historian, an Army veteran, systems engineer, researcher, and teacher/lecturer.

4 Mondays • June 1 to 22 • 9:30 AM - 10:50 AM

Memoir Writing
Explore the what, why, and how of memoir writing with this interactive class. Composition books will be provided, but do bring your favorite pen and your reading glasses. Students will be writing in and out of class and reading work aloud. Designed for new and returning students. Presented by Patrice Erik, PT, MEd, a retired Physical Therapist with a love and passion for writing, and Dr. Dina Lichtman-Smith, an organizational psychologist who specializes in coaching executives.

4 Mondays • June 1 to 22 • 9:30 AM - 10:50 AM

Discussion Topics From the Thinking Society
Participate in great discussions, many topics which will be selected from the Greater Philadelphia Thinking Society. Topics we may discuss include science, technology, philosophy, sociology, government policy, education, psychology, art, music, education and religion. Each session will begin with a brief presentation to kick off discussions. Participants are asked to prepare for each class by viewing online resources, so a computer or tablet with internet will be helpful. Presented by Sandy Catz, MEng, who leads discussions for the Greater Philadelphia Thinking Society and Socrates Café.

4 Mondays • June 1 to 22 • 11:10 AM - 12:30 PM

Prelude to the Civil War
This course will provide a review of history and changes after the American Revolution that drove the country to a Civil War. Explore the Northern and Southern strengths and weaknesses and initial Battles in the East, First Bull Run, and the West, Shiloh. Presented by Jim Brown. He is a graduate of West Point, which has an extensive military history curriculum and he also has Master’s degree in American history from UPenn.
4 Mondays • June 1 to 22 • 11:10 AM - 12:30 PM

Smartphones and Tablet Technology
Today’s smartphones are powerful tools that go far beyond placing phone calls. This course will focus on smartphones and tablets. Students will learn how to manage usernames and passwords, organize the screen and icons, and protect privacy. Also, learn how to use social media such as Facebook and Twitter. Learn how to take great photos and videos and also how to save, edit, and organize them. Finally, discover how to use digital books, movies, and music and the resources available. Presented by Lynn Israel, MEd, who holds certifications in early childhood, elementary and technology education.
4 Mondays • June 1 to 22 • 1:10 PM - 2:30 PM

Arboretum Garden Club
Calling all green thumbs! The Ambler Arboretum of Temple University welcomes gardeners, at all levels of experience, to assist with outdoor projects around the Ambler campus including planting, pruning, weeding, and more! Sessions will consist of short lectures or demos, and then you’ll have the chance for hands-on experience working with the Arboretum’s horticulture staff. Presented by Kathleen Salisbury, the director of the Ambler Arboretum of Temple University.
4 Mondays • June 1 to 22 • 1:10 PM - 2:30 PM

Wine 101: Wine Appreciation for Beginners
Join us for this introduction to wine appreciation. We’ll review the history of wine and how different wines are made. Learn wine terms, the major wine regions of the world, and the difference between expensive and inexpensive wines. Also, discover how to read a wine label and a restaurant wine list. The last class session will include a “blind” wine tasting and what to look for when tasting wine. Presented by Stanley Gornish, a retired executive to nonprofit organizations with an avocation and passion for wine who has conducted numerous wine tastings.
4 Mondays • June 1 to 22 • 1:10 PM - 2:30 PM
WEDNESDAY SESSIONS

The Rise of Western Civilization
The present is influenced and is composed of what transpired in the past. This seminar will trace the dawn of Western civilization from the era of the prehistoric man through the development of the Mesopotamian river civilizations, illustrating how mankind developed. Emphasis will be placed on learning about the development of societies, government, religion, and economics. Presented by James H. Robertson, who holds an MA in modern European history from Washington State University and is an adjunct professor of history at Eastern University.

4 Wednesdays • June 3 to 24 • 9:30 AM - 10:50 AM

A Closer Look at Hot Topics
This class offers a more in-depth look at some current “hot button” issues. The topics of generic drugs, gun control, fracking, and disaster relief will be examined during the four class sessions. Historical perspectives, current situations, current legislation, legislative initiative and reform, as well as further ideas for resolution of problems will be considered. Each presentation seeks to include additional input and discussion from class members. Presented by Deborah Mersky, who graduated from Temple in May ’71 with a BS in Education and spent 39 years as an educator in public and private schools.

4 Wednesdays • June 3 to 24 • 9:30 AM - 10:50 AM

World Leaders with Secret Illnesses
We will examine history, politics, and world leaders’ medical and neurologic disorders in the course of World War II. Specifically, we will discuss Stalin, Churchill, Roosevelt, and Mao Tse-tung. Presented by Allan B. Schwartz, MD, professor of medicine, Drexel University College of Medicine.

4 Wednesdays • June 3 to 24 • 11:10 AM - 12:30 PM
Opera Excerpts
Explore the world of opera! This course is an overview with selections and discussion of operas representing four stylistic periods. We will place these works in context of development and history. We will focus on: (1) Mozart and before; (2) Bel Canto; (3) Verdi; and (4) Puccini and verismo. Presented by Elihu Goren, MD, PhD, a retired endocrinologist from Albert Einstein College of Medicine and opera buff from the time he was 9 years old.
4 Wednesdays • June 3 to 24 • 11:10 AM - 12:30 PM

Israel and the Middle East
Discover the history of Zionism, Palestine, and Israel. During this course, we will seek to gain a better understanding of the current conflicts in the Middle East and in Israel through lecture and discussion. We will examine the background of the many issues involved, including historical, political, and philosophical issues. Some minimal reading will be suggested. Presented by Rabbi Alan D. Fuchs, who is Rabbi Emeritus of Congregation Rodeph Shalom in Philadelphia, where he served as senior Rabbi for ten years.
4 Wednesdays • June 3 to 24 • 1:10 PM - 2:30 PM
Brazil and Her Music
Join us for an introduction to Brazil and its culture, mostly through musica popular brasileira (MPB). Classes will consist of personal anecdotes and thematic presentations of MPB. We will explore the work of the major composers, the interpreters of the music, and lyrical themes, which will touch on life, love, and social-political commentary and protest. Presented by Narayan Acharya, PhD, an engineer who is also a writer and storyteller by avocation and who developed a passion for the music of Spain and Brazil.

4 Wednesdays • June 3 to 24 • 1:10 PM - 2:30 PM

Women’s Suffrage in Philadelphia 1820-1920
This course highlights local women whose activism in multiple arenas set the stage for passage of the 19th amendment guaranteeing women the vote. We’ll begin by looking at the relationship between abolition and women’s political awakening. We’ll also explore the organizing and lobbying experience women acquired through their roles in creating large public events and the infrastructure providing social services for women and children. We’ll also learn about the pivotal role of expanding educational opportunities for women and girls and its relationship to the suffrage movement. Finally, we’ll delve into the leadership, organizations, and strategies women used to build the suffrage movement in Pennsylvania and nationally. Presented by Cindy Little, PhD, who holds a doctorate from Temple University and is one of the founding mothers of National Women’s History Month.

4 Wednesdays • June 3 to 24 • 1:10 PM - 2:30 PM

Antique Discussion and Appraisal Event
Do you have an object that has been passed down generation after generation? Is it worth anything? That treasure you found antiquing might be a hidden gem! In addition to a short lecture, bring in an easily transportable item with the exception of jewelry, rugs, stamps, or baseball cards/sports memorabilia, and have experts appraise your item. While we will be limited to about 20 items to be appraised, all members are welcome to attend this discussion and appraisal event. Information on how to sign up to bring an item in for appraisal will be available soon. Presented by Michael Locati, owner of Locati LLC, of Maple Glen, PA.

Wednesday • June 17 • 2:45 PM - 4:15 PM
